

YODA Project Completion: Project # 2018-3061
Reporting of Results

Objective: We intend to develop a prediction model to identify patients with moderate to severe ulcerative colitis most likely to respond to infliximab.

Methods used: The analysis is being pursued through an alternative collaboration which provides direct access of the data to the proposal investigators. Analyses are not being conducted on the YODA platform.

Results: Analyses are ongoing through alternative data access source.

Conclusions: N/A.