

YODA Project # 2015-0565

Title: Understanding reasons for screen failures in late phase trials in advanced GU cancers.

Objective: To review published phase III trials in advanced prostate cancer and collect data on number and timing of screen failures as well as document reasons for screen failures where available.

Methods Used: We were unable to find the information about screen failures that we were looking for in the database. Many trials do not collect this information which is really a major conclusion of our previous work. No analyses were conducted.

Results: N/A

Conclusions: N/A