| 4. Recommendation for this data request:  | Approve                    |

Comments:

I suspect that there will not be many common data elements that can be used across the 107 studies, but the description of the work is clear and academic in focus. One issue that could be clarified is how machine learning models will be modified if certain data elements are available in some trials, but not others.
